

The Armani style is confident and relaxed, favouring dark or neutral-colours, focussed on minimalism, elegance and connoisseurship

"I always dreamt of creating an entire Armani lifestyle," the designer says. "Interiors were an obvious area to explore as they allow you to dress the space. And food, too, is an essential part of life. It was a short step to hotels and residences." There are Armani hotels in Milan and Dubai, and Armani restaurants and cafés round the word. Add to that Armani cakes and sweets (Armani/Dolci), flowers (Armani/Fiori) and a bookseller (Armani/Libri), as well as the fragrances, skincare and beauty ranges, and you start to see what an "Armani lifestyle" really means.

The new store at 760 Madison Avenue sits on the same street as the designer's first in New York. "In the 1980s, when I opened my