BRICS countries? However, the bilateral issues need to be rectified for this to happen so that BRICS can coordinate its forces to rescue nationals whenever it faces problems within the BRICS countries. At the same time, other BRICS members have different positions on various international issues. Because, it has indicated in the ongoing Ukraine crisis. During the UNSC and the UN resolutions to condemn and prevent Russia from further attacking Ukraine, India and China have abstained. Still, Brazil and South Africa participated and voted against the Russian federation. While China and Russia aim the BRICS to expand its membership, India and other members have a different approach to this. At the same time, the project of BRICS securitization is impossible considering the present scenario. Because, the Ukraine crisis paved the way for establishing new alliances in emerging international relations. Therefore, the future of the BRICS is there in the hands of Russia, China, and India.
