According to the report on BRICS statistical publication, 2020, BRICS countries share is 41.9 percent of the world population. Brazil's share is 3 percent, Russia's share is 2 percent, India's share is 17, China's is 18 percent, and South Africa's share is 1 percent. That implies it is a humongous amount within the global population share. Human resources are the primary element in developing and becoming a significant power (Fig. 2.3).
