Department of Political Science, Moscow State University, Institute of Asian and African Studies, Prof. Lena Kutovaya, Department of Political Science, Moscow State University, Institute of Asian and African Studies, and Liya Kravchenko, expert at Russian International Affairs Council, Member of International Political Science Association, not only for their valuable time, insightful comments, and precious suggestion but also for the tricky question which incented me to widen my research form various perspective. The validation field survey could not have been successful without their passionate participation and input.

I want to express my sincere thanks to the JNU library staff and the Institute of Defense and Strategic Analysis (IDSA) library for providing exceedingly worthy materials adding enrichment. I also extend my special thanks to my friends Naresh, Sudhakar, Naveen, Kishore, Eswar, Raju, Vijay et al. I'm gratefully indebted for their contribution.

Last but not least, I am pleased to express my heartfelt appreciation to all my family members, especially my mother Laxmi and father Banaiah. They are the most incredible soul of inspiration to me. Words cannot express how grateful I am to Praveen-Thriveni, Swaroopa-Rajalingu, Kavitha-Poshetti, Vamshi, Nikhil, Vaishnavi, Varshini, Hemalatha, Thoka Manishi, Navaneeth, Shreyansh, Sujatha, Swaranjali, and Rajkumar, also to my in-laws Mallaiah-Mallu Bai, Chinna Poshanna-Poshavva for their endless love, affection, support, encouragement, and motivation doing the work, a success. Finally, I must express my profound gratitude to my beloved wife, Haritha, and my dear son, for their understanding, unfailing support, continuous encouragement, patience, and unwavering love throughout years of studying and writing the book. This accomplishment would not have been possible without them.

Having been privileged in receiving such support and sympathy, I own responsibility for all the errors or omissions that might have crept into the book.
