

MANDAR DEODHAR

GURUSPEAK

"Our programme goes beyond journalism into allied communication fields, offering industry-oriented specialisations such as instructional design, scriptwriting and digital humanities, preparing students for OTT, production houses and employability"

DR MADHAVI REDDY, HoD, DMCS, Savitribai Phule Pune University

technical and creative aspects of web page development, is helping students find opportunities in digital content projects.

Infrastructure is also getting a significant boost. The department has secured Rs 3 crore under the Rashtriya Uchchatar Shiksha Abhiyan (RUSA) to establish a state-of-the-art studio. During academic breaks, the facility will be rented out to the Marathi film industry, creating a new revenue stream for the department. It will also provide students with valuable hands-on industry exposure through internships in these film projects, says Reddy. The department is embracing new technologies as well. A doctoral researcher has developed an AI-enabled tool that helps students optimise their CVs for increasingly automated recruitment systems. It has been complemented by a first-of-its-kind workshop on voice modulation to boost their chances in interviews. ■

The college that has shown the highest improvement in rankings between 2022 and 2026