

students. “This dedicated daily break is designed to encourage nutritious eating from an early age. For many underprivileged children accustomed to unhealthy or irregular meals, this initiative ensures they receive essential vitamins daily beyond the usual lunch break,” Rajinder Sharma explains.

HOLISTIC DEVELOPMENT AND SOCIAL REFORM

The impact of the Noble Foundation extends far beyond the classroom walls, triggering profound social changes within Ludhiana's marginalized communities.

HEALTH AWARENESS ACTIVITIES

Noble Foundation periodically organizes free medical checkup camps in these slum areas providing free medicines, investigation, vision specks and medical checkup by expert doctors. Approximately 40,000 persons have been benefited under this health checkup initiative.

EMPOWERING YOUNG WOMEN

In areas where girls were traditionally married off as early as 12 or 13, the foundation has empowered young women to take a stand. Rajinder Sharma recalls instances where young girls, backed by the moral support of the foundation, successfully resisted early marriages to continue their education.

“We are not just handing out certificates. Our goal is to ensure that every child leaves school equipped with a dignified, employable skill to stand tall in society.”

SAVINGS AND BANKING

Recognizing that financial stability is vital for keeping children in school, the Noble Foundation has initiated the ‘Piggy Bank Project’ wherein the children are encouraged to save a portion of their pocket money for long-term goals and are publicly celebrated for their fiscal discipline.
Simultaneously, the trust coordinates with major banks to open zero-balance accounts for children, transitioning marginalized families into the formal banking system, till date approximately 7500 bank accounts hav been open.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING AND INDEPENDENCE

Further, to foster absolute financial independence among women, the foundation runs free vocational tailoring programs as well. Upon successful completion of the training, women are given free sewing machines, empowering them to launch independent home-based businesses. The foundation has helped 2600 women till date under this project.

FAMILY OUTREACH AND CRISIS SUPPORT

The Foundation also actively integrates counseling against drug and alcohol abuse into its parental outreach, using mathematical logic to show fathers how much wealth they lose to addiction.

Further, on every Mother's Day, the foundation organizes educational trips for the students along with their mothers, to give marginalized women an opportunity to travel. The foundation also supported students and their families during Covid-19 pandemic, providing them packages up to 35 kgs of ration and other household needs.

COMMUNITY HYGIENE AND GREEN INITIATIVES

As part of the community cleanliness drive, school representatives conduct surprise visits to the homes of randomly selected students. The foundation evaluates these households on hygiene, waste management, and the integration of green plants. This healthy competition has transformed entire slum clusters promoting cleaner and greener surroundings.

CAPTIVATING LEADERSHIP AT THE ANNUAL FUNCTION

The sheer discipline and operational efficiency of the Noble Foundation have caught the attention of the state's highest offices. During the foundation's annual functions, visiting Punjab Governors have repeatedly expressed amazement at the execution of the events.

Witnessing children from the slum environments manage large-scale stages, winning declamation and science projects, and demonstrate flawless discipline, the governors noted that the organization and efficiency of these kids rivaled, and often surpassed, some of the most elite private institutions in the country.

THE FUTURE: BUILDING SELF-RELIANT CITIZENS

Looking to the future, Rajinder Sharma’s ultimate goal is to see a 100% literate Ludhiana. He envisions a self-sustaining Gurukul system that provides integrated academic and vocational streaming from grade 6 through 12. The Noble Foundation plans to establish a 60 Acres Gurukulam, ‘Maa Sharda Vidyapeeth’, to provide comprehensive education to 10,000 students in Ludhiana City. This advanced educational complex will also include a Gaushala and Cow Breeding & Research Institute to make the gurukul self sustaining. With this initiative, the Noble Foundation holds a deep hope that like-minded partners will come forward to join hands in turning this vision into a reality for helping the deserving children.
