MENUS WORTH THE MILES

Hosting the coveted Asia's 50 Best Restaurants awards for the first time, Hong Kong, the city of dim sum dreams, made good on its promise as Asia's dining capital. From timeless Cantonese masterpieces to audacious culinary evolutions, these tasting menus are world-class.

RUPALI DEAN

Hong Kong has officially seized the culinary crown, dominating Asia's 50 Best Restaurants 2026 with a jaw dropping 1-2 punch. The Chairman reclaimed its top spot, proving yet again why it's the soul of Cantonese fine dining, while Wing soared to No. 2, marking a historic victory lap for the city's dining scene. Accepting the honour, Chef-Owner Danny Yip of The Chairman nailed it: "We're vintage." With an average team age of 52 with many clocking as many as 17 years, it's less about razzle dazzle and more about respect for the craft, the ingredients, and most importantly, the team. Yip's philosophy? Consistency is a dish built on stability. Add local stars like Hansik Goo and One Harbour Road to your list, and you've got a city that doesn't just feed you, it wraps you up in its gastronomic story.
