

HANSIK GOO
(IN THE 50 BEST DISCOVERY LIST; 1 MICHELIN STAR)

The second brainchild of the trailblazing Mingoo Kang, whose Seoul-based Mingles boasts two Michelin stars, offers an elegant reimagining of traditional Korean cuisine in Hong Kong. The name itself is a playful amalgamation, 'hansik' (Korean food), 'goo' (short for Mingoo Kang), and 'sikgoo' (family), that sets the tone for the restaurant's ethos, rooted in heritage but strikingly modern. Two tasting menus steer the experience, a shorter dinner or the indulgent 'Premium Dinner,' which is where Chef Kang's imagination truly shines. Take the Samgye Risotto 2.0, a stunning reimagination of 'samgyetang', Korea's beloved ginseng chicken soup, transformed into a tender roulade of chicken and duck stuffed with woodsy song yi mushrooms, all crowned with a velvety ginseng infused rice broth. For fans of barbecue, the Korean Feast reinvents KBBQ, sans the smoke and spatter, with a polished duo of gorgeously grilled Hanwoo rib eye and sous vide pork belly, paired with crisp lettuce wraps and freshly made kimchi for a refined take on 'ssam'. Dessert is ashow stealer with the 'Jang Trio' offering a daring interplay of 'doenjang' crème brulee, ganjang glazed pecans, velvety vanilla ice cream, and crispy rice, a sweet and savoury masterpiece. Pair all this with a fizzy Boksoondoga makgeolli or a smooth pour of Hwayo 25 soju for the full experience.

WHERE: 1F, The Wellington, 198 Wellington Street, Central

COST: Regular Tasting Menu at ₹17,000 and Signature at ₹21000 per person

WEB: http://www.hansikgoo.hk/

USP

Elevates Korean tradition into inventive, Michelin level fine dining with heart.

Grilled Gochujang, seasonal fish at Hansik Goo (Top left); Chef Park Seung Hun (Above); Head Chef of Hansik Goo; Jang Trio at Hansik Goo (Below)