FUNDING SOURCES

Donations dominated party finances, followed by income from interest-bearing deposits

Voluntary donation/ contributions ₹702 cr. (59%)

Interest on bank deposits, FDs, etc. ₹277 cr. (23%)

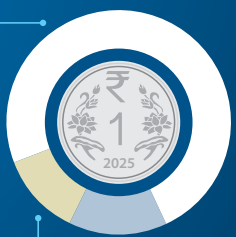

Other sources ₹214 cr. (18%)

₹184 CR.
Donations powered the TMC, accounting for its largest source of income

₹120 CR.
Fees and subscriptions were the TDP's biggest revenue stream

SPENDING PRIORITIES

Elections dominated party expenditure, followed by administrative & general expenses

Election & political activities ₹1,065 cr. (74%)

Administrative & general expenses ₹170 cr. (12%)

Other expenditure ₹198 cr. (14%)

₹300 CR.
The YSRCP reported the highest election campaign expenditure among the 36 parties

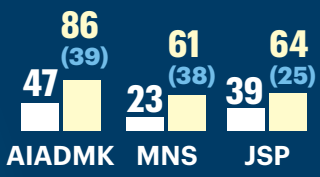

95%
The AGP devoted a higher share of its spending to elections than any other party

INCOME SWINGS

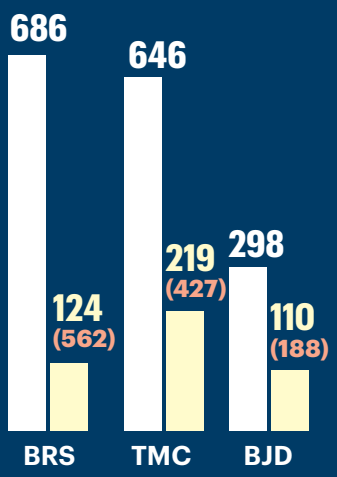

Parties that recorded the sharpest rise—and steepest fall—in income between FY24 and FY25

Income: ■ FY24 ■ FY25 in ₹ cr.; gain/ drop in ( )

BIGGEST GAIN

BIGGEST DROP

19
No. of parties reporting year-on-year income growth; 17 saw a drop

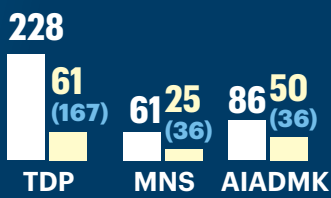

52%
Drop in the combined income of the 36 parties in FY25 vis-à-vis FY24

BOTTOM LINE

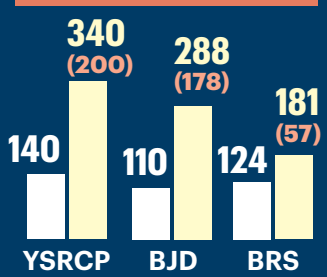

Parties that spent the furthest beyond their means, and those left with the biggest surplus at the end of FY25

■ Income ■ Expenditure in ₹ cr.; deficit/ surplus in ( )

BIGGEST SURPLUS

BIGGEST DEFICIT

21
No. of parties that spent more than they earned in FY25; 15 had a surplus

₹240 CR.
Collective deficit of these 36 regional parties in FY25

LACK OF TRANSPARENCY

- Delayed financial disclosures remain a chronic problem
- The deadline for submitting FY25 audited accounts was Oct. 31, 2025
- Only 15 parties filed on time; 21 were delayed by 2-96 days
- As of May 27, 2026, audit reports of 31 of India's 67 recognised regional parties were still unavailable on the Election Commission's website
- Prominent among them are the DMK, both factions of the Shiv Sena and NCP, J&K National Conference, LJP (RV) and IUML