GOLD GLAM

PINK ANGLE

Vacheron Constantin

Historiques American 1921 in Pink Gold

Few gold watches carry their eccentricity as naturally as the American 1921. For 2026, its polished 18K 5N pink-gold cushion case frames a grained silver dial rotated 45 degrees, making it readable while driving and distinctive everywhere else. Blue numerals, blued gold hands and a dark-blue calf strap cool the metal's warmth. Beneath the unconventional layout sits the Geneva Hallmark caliber 4400 AS, manually wound, just 2.8 mm thick and good for 65 hours. It is Roaring Twenties glamour without the costume-party aftertaste.

RED RESTRAINT

Blancpain

Villeret Ultraplate 38 mm in Red Gold

Blancpain understands that red gold looks richest when it is not competing for attention. The downsized 38 mm Villeret Ultraplate pairs a warm, double-stepped gold case with an opaline dial, slender Roman numerals and almost indecently thin proportions. Inside, the 3.25 mm automatic caliber 1150 squeezes twin barrels, a silicon hairspring and a 100-hour reserve into an 8.35 mm case. The date window may annoy purists, but the overall effect is beautifully restrained. This is gold for people who consider shouting about wealth a failure of tailoring.

GOLDEN WEAVE

Cartier

Santos-Dumont ref. CRWGSA0122

Cartier extends yellow gold from the Santos-Dumont's slim case into a supple bracelet inspired by the maison's made-to-measure metal straps of the 1920s. Its 394 polished links are arranged across 15 rows, allowing the bracelet to drape like fabric around the wrist. A silvered sunray dial contrasts black Roman numerals, blued sword-shaped hands and the railway minute track, while a sapphire cabochon crowns the 7.3 mm case. Inside, ultra-thin hand-wound calibre 430 MC provides a 38-hour reserve, leaving the gold craftsmanship to command attention.
