

THE FARM CRISIS

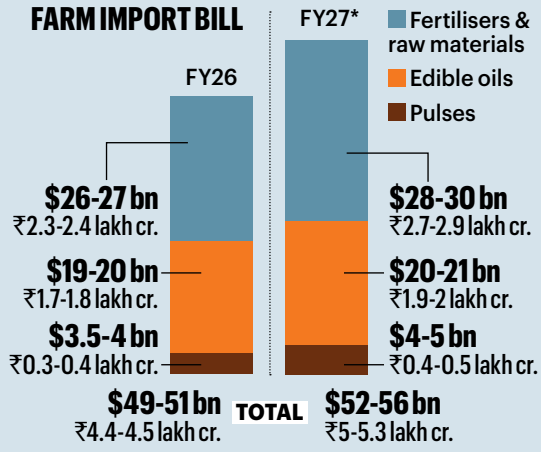

THE IRAN WAR EXPOSES INDIA'S DEPENDENCE ON IMPORTED FERTILISERS, PULSES AND EDIBLE OILS, WITH THE EXPENSE SET TO SOAR TO $56 BILLION OR 6 PER CENT OF TOTAL IMPORTS. WHAT WE NEED TO DO TO ACHIEVE FOOD SELF-SUFFICIENCY

By ANILESH S. MAHAJAN and SONAL KHETARPAL

THE ECONOMIC BURDEN

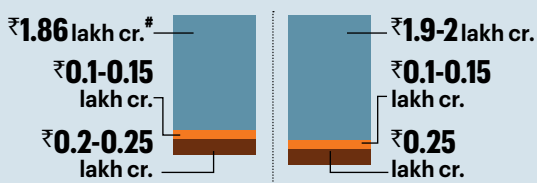

A surging farm import bill and mounting subsidies are testing India's fiscal resilience

FARM IMPORT BILL

$49-51 bn (₹4.4-4.5 lakh cr.) TOTAL $52-56 bn (₹5-5.3 lakh cr.)

SUBSIDIES AND GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

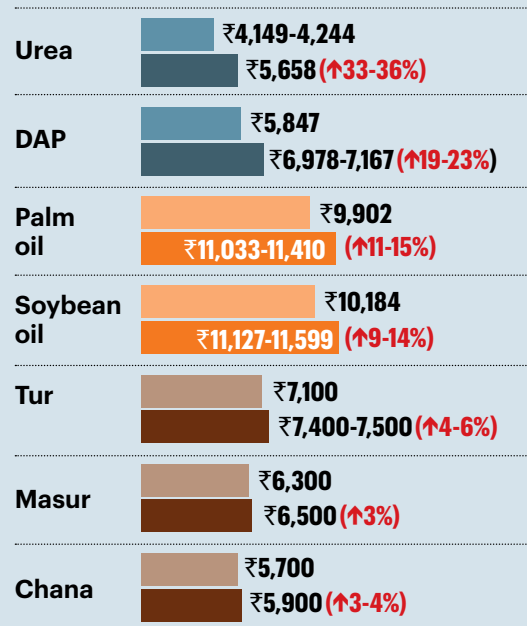

₹2.16-2.26 lakh cr. TOTAL ₹2.25-2.4 lakh cr.

THE COMBINED BILL

₹6.5-6.7 lakh cr. 1.7-1.8% of GDP | ₹7.3-7.6 lakh cr. 1.8-1.9% of GDP

RISING IMPORT COSTS

How the Iran war has driven up import costs for fertilisers, edible oils and pulses

(All prices are per quintal)

Pre-war level | Current level; increase in ( )

Note: For fertilisers and edible oils, prices are based on international benchmarks converted into rupees; for pulses, prices are wholesale rates in domestic markets

Annualised estimate based on April-May 2026 trends*
#Revised estimates; latest CGA data puts it at ₹2.11 lakh cr.

Graphics by TANMOY CHAKRABORTY

Source: GoI