5 Sculpted Serenity

Achieving equilibrium between sculptural form and functional comfort requires precise execution. Lira Dining Chair from Trestle, the contemporary design arm of SR Jindal Group, is a case in point. Defined by its bold geometry, the chair features a grounded conical base paired with a floating circular seat and a compact, rounded backrest. A slender metal arc traces the backrest, adding a subtle industrial edge to the soft, tactile upholstery. Available in both fixed and swivel variants, Lira's earthy palette and fluid lines are designed to complement modern Indian interiors. It's more than a seat; it's a quiet architectural statement for the dining room.
