Evolution of Bespoke Living

Essentia Home makes its Mumbai debut, bringing a decade of integrated design and manufacturing expertise to India's most discerning market

Bureau Report

Essentia Home has opened its first standalone experience centre in Mumbai. Located in Lower Parel's Matulya Centre, the 10,000 sq ft space marks the brand's most ambitious retail milestone yet, adding to its existing experience centres in Gurugram and New Delhi, and bringing bespoke interior solutions to India's most design-forward market.

Made in India. Built to Last.

What sets the Mumbai experience centre apart is not what it carries but what it makes. Every piece of furniture on the floor, every run of millwork, every carpet, every soft furnishing, every work of art and every decorative object in the Essentia Home range is designed and manufactured in-house, at the group's 150,000 sq ft facility in Gurugram. The result is a product range that carries the rigour of international design standards and the integrity of Indian craft, without the compromises that come from splitting design from making.

Visitors to the Lower Parel space encounter bespoke furniture built to architectural precision, millwork that treats the wall as a design surface rather than a backdrop, carpets and soft furnishings developed with the same attention to material and proportion as the hard surfaces they complement, and a curated range of art and artefacts that bring finish and character to a completed interior. These are not catalogue products. Each piece can be adapted, scaled and detailed to the specific requirements of the space it will inhabit.

Redefined Retail Experience

The Mumbai space is built as an immersive destination rather than a showroom. Architects, designers and homeowners move through a carefully considered environment designed to show not just how things look but how they are made and why the making matters. Alongside Essentia's own range, the experience centre carries a select edit of international design names, among them Nolte Kuchen, Tom Dixon, Melogranoblu, Culti and Alessi, chosen to complement rather than compete.

Discerning Sensibility

Lower Parel is not a casual choice. It is where Mumbai's most design-literate clients live and work, a market that has always demanded precise execution and an uncompromising eye. For Essentia Home, the commitment to Mumbai goes beyond a store opening. Hridik Chawla, who leads Essentia Home, has relocated to Mumbai personally to oversee the brand's entry into the city and to be directly available to its clients. "Mumbai has always had a design sensibility that does not settle. The clients here know exactly what they want and they will not accept anything less. We designed this space entirely around the emotional journey of the visitor. The aim is not to fill a floor but to make someone feel something the moment they walk in. Essentia Home in Mumbai is not just a store. It is a statement about where Indian design is going," he says.

The Whole Package

Essentia Home is part of Essentia Group, India's only fully integrated design, build, manufacturing and retail institution. The same facility that produces the furniture and furnishings in the Mumbai store also executes some of the country's most ambitious residential and commercial interiors. That integration, design, manufacturing and execution under one roof, is what allows Essentia to offer something no importer or standalone retailer can: complete accountability from the first sketch to the final room.
