BUSINESS

TATAS AT THE CROSSROADS

N. Chandrasekaran's surprise announcement that he will not seek reappointment as Tata Sons chairman when his second five-year term ends in February 2027 sent shockwaves through the corporate world, erasing billions of dollars off the market value of Tata companies. As the group begins the search for his successor, here's a look at the Tata colossus and the road ahead

Text by M.G. ARUN | Graphic by TANMOY CHAKRABORTY

THE TATA UNIVERSE

The Tata Group spans technology, steel, automotive, aviation, consumer retail, infrastructure, telecom, chemicals and trading, among other businesses, making it one of India's largest diversified conglomerates

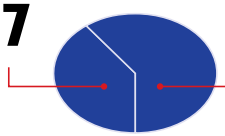

Revenues, FY26
₹16.2 LAKH CR.

Profits, FY26
₹1.7 LAKH CR.

Number of employees
1.16 MN

Unlisted companies 17

Listed companies 26

Market cap of listed companies
₹26.5* LAKH CR.

As on Aug. 12, when Chandrasekaran announced his exit*

WHO OWNS THE TATA GROUP

The group is primarily controlled by a handful of philanthropic trusts. The Noel Tata-led Tata Trusts collectively hold two-thirds of Tata Sons, the principal investment holding company and promoter. The trusts support education, healthcare, livelihoods, and art and culture

Tata Trusts 65.9%

- Sir Dorabji Tata Trust 27.98%
- Sir Ratan Tata Trust 23.56%
- JRD Tata Trust 4.01%
- Tata Education Trust 3.73%
- Tata Social Welfare Trust 3.73%
- R.D. Tata Trust 2.19%
- Sarvajanik Seva Trust 0.1%
- MK Tata Trust 0.6%

Shapoorji Pallonji Group 18.4%

Tata companies & operating units 13%

- Tata Motors 3.06%
- Tata Steel 3.06%
- Tata Chemicals 2.53%
- Other group cos 4.35%

Individuals 2.7%

- Ratan Tata# 0.83%
- Noel Tata 1%
- Jimmy Tata 0.81%
- Others 0.06%

THE ADJOURNED AGM

On Aug. 18, Tata Sons' annual general meeting was adjourned for lack of quorum due to regulatory restrictions. Chandra's reappointment as director was deferred, but he continues as one as a result of the adjournment

#Following his death in Oct. 2024, Ratan Tata's will directed that his shares be transferred to his charitable foundations