1 Rain Check

As monsoon skies slow India down, staying indoors becomes the ultimate power move. Premium lifestyle brand Kaanch, founded by Khushi Daga, launches The Monsoon Table, a sophisticated glassware curation turning indoor idling into an art form. Forget drab serveware; these European-inspired double-walled mugs, sleek highball glasses and chic dessert cups seamlessly blend contemporary aesthetics with daily utility. Whether nursing warm tea to the rhythm of downpours or hosting a lively cocktail soirée, these clean silhouettes elevate basic tables into sophisticated storytelling hubs. If the stormy weather forces you to hibernate, you might as well pour your spirits in style.

2 Elegant Minimalism

Poltrona Frau introduces the Abigail dining table, designed by Roberto Lazzeroni for the True Over Time collection at Milan Design Week 2026. The piece features a premium 2cm thick rectangular marble top with rounded corners, supported beautifully by tapered solid ash wood legs in Moka or Wengé finishes. Blending clean, contemporary lines with authentic material harmony, its apparent simplicity is achieved through a hidden black aluminium underframe that ensures structural stability. Available in three sizes and exquisite marble variants like Bianco Carrara, Abigail effortlessly brings an organic lightness and versatile, timeless luxury to fine contemporary Indian dining spaces.

3 Sink into Style

It's not just kitchen appliances but also your sink that's become a lot smarter. Ruhe's new Opera Smart Kitchen Sink, is a case in point. Crafted from 304-grade stainless steel with a sleek Black PVD finish, this feature-rich sink blends high-end innovation with sophisticated design. It boasts piano-style controls, a pull-out faucet, dual waterfalls, an integrated RO tap and an automatic cup washer. Complete with a digital temperature display, built-in soap dispenser and quick-drain functionality, it offers the perfect balance of style and performance for modern homeowners and designers.
