

Carlo Moro in conversation with Ridhi Kale

LIGHTING UP THE FUTURE

Prism Inc in Bangalore and Flos became the perfect incubator of bright ideas and intelligent conversation and light-hearted moments by the design community

BUREAU REPORT

Top Indian architectural lighting company, Prism Inc, teamed up with famous Italian brand Flos for an exclusive event in Bangalore. The evening brought together architects, interior designers and lighting consultants, who gathered to discuss innovation, sustainability and design excellence.

Global Perspectives on Lighting Design

A major highlight was the interview of Carlo Moro, Chief Sales Officer at Flos by Ridhi Kale, of India Today HOME. Moro shared insights on how lighting redefines spaces. He emphasised design-led innovation and human-centric lighting solutions rooted in Flos' rich heritage of craftsmanship.

Elevating the Indian Design Landscape

The forum also highlighted the growing maturity of India's architectural lighting landscape. Prominent design experts shared their experiences. Speakers included Amardeep Dugar, Sushanth (Brain Wave), Kunal Shah (SPK Valo), Sharath and Rhea Goyal (Little Dipper), Ekta Sanghvi (Lighting Concepts), Anusha (Lighting Spaces), Usama (US+A) and Poorvi Kamath (Licht Kunst Licht). They discussed the vital role of lighting as an integral part of architecture and the importance of interdisciplinary collaboration.

Amardeep Dugar and Vinod Pillai

Shray Mehta with Usama and Anaya

Vineet Narula, Flos Country Manager

Arpith Baliya with Tisha Baliya

Legacy Driven by Innovation

Ekta Sanghvi

The event also focused on the leadership driving this change. Third-generation entrepreneurs Arpith Baliya and Shray Mehta, Managing Directors of Prism Inc shared their vision of honouring a decades-old family legacy while steering the business toward an expansion-focused future. They outlined plans to scale Prism Inc's nationwide footprint, bringing advanced technologies and world-class lighting closer to local designers.

This landmark gathering successfully bridged global expertise with local design talent.