THE MUSIC NEVER STOPS

Having completed 25 years in the music business, Shaan has a spate of new releases and live concerts planned for 2025

Q. What is your new song Ishq Qubool Kar all about?
It marks the 200th video on my Shaan Music YouTube channel. The next single after that was Tera Ho Raha, a Valentine's Day special. Most of these songs are conceived and composed by me. The music label is my attempt to connect with my core audience, explore my compositional skills and put out music I believe in.

Q. What do you feel about performing live?
The live concert scene, though hectic, has been very rewarding and I have already clocked several shows this year. Performing at the Udaipur World Music Festival in February—my 15th show this year—was definitely a highlight.

Q. Tell us about some of your new film songs to look out for.
I have sung songs in the recently released Kuch Sapney Apne. Another recent release I'm really excited about is a duet with Akriti Kakar, 'Koi Koi', which I have composed to the lyrics of iconic director Kunal Kohli for his upcoming project Bobby Aur Rishi Ki Love Story.

Q. Your musical journey goes back almost 47 years. How does it feel?
It's been 25 years since I sang my first Bollywood song, 30 years since my first Indipop release and 47 years since I became a professional singer. It's been a long journey but still feels like I've just begun. Over the years, I have tried to reinvent myself to align with changing trends without losing my authenticity.

—with Neha Kirpal