the structural weaknesses that persist across the rest of the system. The gap between India's best and the bulk of its higher education system appears to be growing and, with it, the challenge of building a truly inclusive and uniformly excellent educational landscape.

The India Today Group's Best Colleges Survey for 2025 seeks to bridge this divide. For nearly three decades, this annual exercise has earned a reputation as the most credible and comprehensive assessment of the country's undergraduate colleges. Backed by a rigorous methodology, continuous innovation and an unwavering commitment to objectivity, the rankings are a crucial barometer for students, faculty, policymakers and industry leaders alike.

INDIA TODAY, however, has never believed in resting on its laurels. In
