

▲ Feb. 15, 1984

▲ Jul. 31, 1983

▲ Nov. 30, 1981

▲ Jul. 15, 1981

▲ Mar. 31, 1982

ciety torn between traditional ideals and emerging realities. When sexually transmitted diseases surged, the magazine broke the silence of stigma and told stories of fear and misinformation. This was responsible public health reporting.

The magazine profiled artists like M.F. Husain, capturing genius, contradiction, and commercial success in the same frame. Even pornography was examined, not sensationalised. When explicit material flooded bookstalls, INDIA TODAY treated it as a media and commerce story. It asked why demand exploded, and what it said about censorship, curiosity, and hypocrisy.

This was not trendspotting for effect. It was documentation. INDIA TODAY did not tell readers what to think. It showed them what was happening. Across homes, markets, bedrooms, and streets.

Between 1975 and 1985, India learned to consume, conceal, aspire, and adapt. INDIA TODAY was there, watching it happen. ■

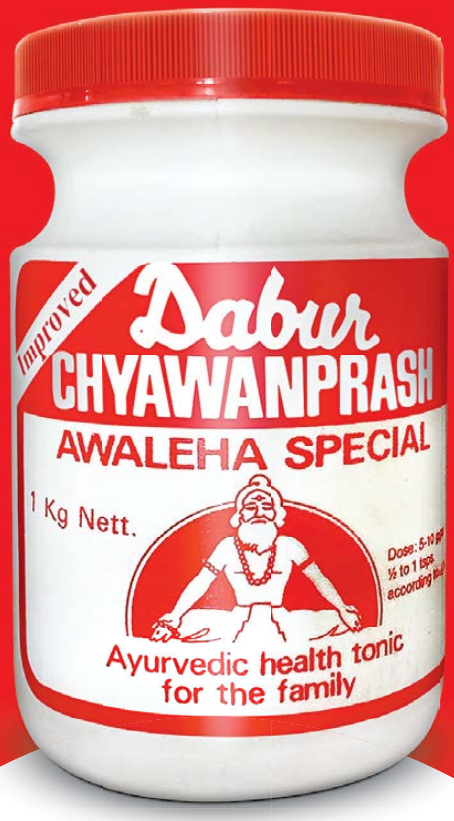

Dabur
Chyawanprash

1983

INDIA LIFTS CRICKET WORLDCUP

WHEN THE NATION RAISED THE FLAG OF VICTORY ON THE WORLD STAGE

Dabur Chyawanprash was there strengthening the nation's immunity

STRENGTHENING India, Today and Tomorrow.

Classical Ayurvedic Medicine. Dosage and Directions as per label. Strength to fight day to day illnesses based on classical ayurvedic texts. Product claims based on scientific studies and data in public domain.