Our GDP contribution reflects this same breadth and depth. In FY24, we contributed ₹25,395 crore in direct economic value, while our wider linkages across agriculture, supply chains, retail and hospitality generated an additional ₹23,643 crore indirectly. This takes our total GDP contribution to ₹49,038 crore — representing progress that is real, measurable, and built to last.

Q2. Which findings from the Pahle India Foundation report capture the essence of Diageo India's national contribution?

The Pahle India Foundation report makes one thing clear: Diageo India creates impact in sectors that form the backbone of India's economy. We are not a peripheral player but an integral part of the country's economic architecture.

Our impact extends far beyond our immediate sector, cutting across the entire grain-to-glass ecosystem. In agriculture alone, over 2.9 lakh livelihoods link into our value chain, generating ₹3,956 crore of value. Logistics and transport, the lifeline of a modern economy, accounts for 1.55 lakh jobs and ₹12,738 crore in value creation. Machinery and equipment, a critical backward-linked industry for us, supports 2,861 jobs and contributes ₹214 crore in value. These are the engines that power rural incomes, drive MSME growth and keep India's economic arteries functioning. The forward-linked impact is equally significant. Across tourism, hospitality and business services, our value chain strengthens 1,39,454 jobs and contributes over ₹5,000 crore in economic value.

Beyond these linkages, the report highlights one of our most important contributions to nation-building: our fiscal footprint. In FY24, Diageo India contributed ₹20,417 crore in taxes and levies to state and central governments, revenue that directly supports investments in infrastructure, social protection, and development priorities.

Q3. Sustainability is one of the defining pillars of the Viksit Bharat agenda. How aligned is your environmental performance with this long-term national priority?

Sustainability is core to the Viksit Bharat vision because no developed nation can be built on fragile ecosystems or resource stress. Our Spirit of Progress agenda is our ESG action plan that defines our role in helping India grow responsibly. It is our commitment to shaping a more inclusive and regenerative future across every part of our business, from how we source, manufacture, operate and innovate to how we engage consumers and communities. The plan is focused on grain-to-glass sustainability, championing inclusion and diversity, and promoting responsible consumption, all underpinned by doing business the right way.

The shift towards a resource-efficient economy is non-negotiable for a future-ready India, and we have been deliberate in our approach. In FY24, we reduced our greenhouse gas emissions by 84%, while 92% of the energy powering our direct operations came from renewable sources. This is a fundamental transformation in how we operate. Water stewardship, another priority under the Viksit Bharat agenda, has also seen meaningful progress. We have reduced overall water withdrawal by nearly 11%, and our focus on recyclable packaging has brought us to 99% recyclability across our portfolio. These outcomes reinforce a simple principle: industrial growth and environmental responsibility are not competing objectives. They can and must advance together if India is to meet its long-term aspirations.

Aligning our Spirit of Progress Agenda to Viksit Bharat

Our Spirit of Progress action plan aligns directly with India's vision for Viksit Bharat. It focuses on grain-to-glass sustainability, championing inclusion and diversity, and promoting positive drinking- all underpinned by doing business the right way. Through these priorities, we deliver environmental, social, and economic outcomes that strengthen the capabilities of a developed India.

Q4. Beyond economic and environmental impact, how is Diageo India contributing to social progress?

Our social impact agenda prioritises two areas that shift outcomes for the long term: building skills and expanding inclusion. Our CSR programmes have directly impacted over 35,000 people and reached more than 1,90,000 beneficiaries indirectly. We drive skilling, entrepreneurship, and education in ways that create durable capabilities, rather than short-term dependencies.

The broader philosophy is simple: India's development must be reflected in the opportunities we create for people, especially in communities that have been excluded from formal growth cycles.

Q5. If you had to encapsulate the alcobev industry's role in building a Viksit Bharat, how would you articulate it?

We see the alcobev industry as an essential contributor to India's social and economic growth — a sector that invests in future skills, supports multiple value chains and enables millions of livelihoods. Alcobev is one of the few sectors with deep backward and forward linkages, connecting farmers to markets, MSMEs to scale, supply chains to efficiency, and the services economy to growth.

Our commitment at Diageo India is to help shape an industry that reflects the ambition of a Viksit Bharat: competitive, inclusive and responsible. This is the context in which our Spirit of Progress ESG plan operates. We call it the 'business of better'.
