

UNDER THE YOGI GOVERNMENT, YOUNG DREAMS TAKE FLIGHT

Youth centric policies under Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath government have laid a firm foundation for transforming Uttar Pradesh's youth from job seekers into job creators. Schemes focused on self employment, entrepreneurship and skill development have enabled thousands of young people to stand on their own feet, injecting fresh energy into the state's economy.

The Chief Minister Yuva Udyami Vikas Abhiyan has emerged as the central pillar in turning youthful aspirations into enterprise-driven action. The scheme directly encourages young people aged 21 to 40 years to set up businesses and startups. It offers interest-free loans of up to ₹5 lakh, a 10 per cent margin money bonus, and free mentorship. Crucially, the government does not stop at financial assistance alone; it provides sustained support in technology, management and marketing to ensure long-term business viability. For 2025-26, the target has been set to support 1.70 lakh entrepreneurs, a milestone of which a significant portion has already been achieved.

The One District One Product (ODOP) scheme has played a decisive role in strengthening youth entrepreneurship. Championed as a flagship initiative of Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, the programme has now emerged as a model for other states. By identifying each district's traditional and distinctive products and linking them to markets, ODOP has expanded local employment while revitalising traditional crafts. Young entrepreneurs benefit from export-linked subsidies, insurance cover of ₹5 lakh, and license-free operations for the first 1,000 days. As a result, Uttar Pradesh today ranks first in the country with 77 GI tags, and the state's products are increasingly establishing a strong presence in international markets.
