

General Musharraf: Mission Kashmir
Jul. 16, 2001

❝Ironically, till May 23, when Delhi called off the ceasefire in Kashmir and simultaneously extended an invitation to Islamabad, it was Musharraf who was begging a call "at any time, any place and any level". It was Vajpayee who got all the international acclaim for his noble and statesman-like gesture. But in just six weeks, Musharraf appears to have turned the tables. He is now setting the agenda.❞

The Inside Story of Why the Agra Summit Failed and What's Next
Jul. 30, 2001

❝It was a dialogue of the deaf. Musharraf played his Kashmir song all over again, adding a new point—that Kashmir could not be resolved unless the "wishes of the Kashmiri people" were also factored in.... Armed with the irreconcilable opening statements of Vajpayee and Musharraf, diplomats of both countries set about the impossible task of drafting a joint statement.❞

UNEASY THAW Atal Bihari Vajpayee greets Pervez Musharraf during the Agra Summit, July 2001. Also seen are Jaswant Singh and L.K. Advani

DILIP BANERJEE