Drawing inspiration from the Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi, Chief Minister Saini is pressing all levers to make Haryana stand in the front row of states, making a stellar contribution in realising his vision of Viksit Bharat @ 2047.

giving infra investment a whooping ₹20,000-crore push to digital initiatives aimed at making the life of the man in the street easy and hassle-free; and from providing government jobs to 34,000 youths without kharchi and parchi to promoting industry, investment and job creation—his recent visit to Japan underscores this effort---the Saini administration has comprehensively addressed every aspect of public life.

The notable achievements, some coming from the first-time stable, span agriculture, healthcare, education, energy, infrastructure, social welfare, women's empowerment, employment generation, and environment protection. Capped by making Haryana rank first among major states in per capita revenue collection, these bear testimony to administrative excellence, commitment to transparent governance, and delivery to one and all.

Decidedly, healthcare and social welfare, especially of the farmers, take the cake. Among the first few files Mr Saini signed after assuming office pertained to free dialysis facilities for poor patients in all district hospitals. Healthcare has been made accessible; those above 70 years of age getting Ayushman Bharat cover; many new medical colleges and nursing institutions are coming up; and 7,500 medical officers have been recruited to address the shortage of doctors.

The Saini administration plays a true friend of farmers. All avenues are being tapped to make farming a profitable proposition. All the 24 notified crops are now procured at MSP and payment is made to farmers within 48 hours. Agricultural marketing reforms, including the establishment of 28 new vegetable markets, launch of 124 Atal Shramik Kisan Canteen and dispute resolution schemes have strengthened the agricultural supply chain. Nuh district has been included in the Dhan Dhanya Krishi Yojana launched by the Prime Minister in 100 districts across the country.

The ambit of social justice and welfare has been widened. Measures like bifurcation of SC reservations;
