including government, semi-government, and private organisations, are currently operating across the state for the care, protection, development, and rehabilitation of children in need.

Under the Child Protection Services (CPS) scheme, a grant of ₹3,000 per child per month is provided for the upkeep of each child, along with an additional ₹1,000 for government-run institutions. Children residing in these institutions are also provided with education, medical care, vocational training, and recreational facilities by the CCIs.

Open Shelter Homes provide care and protection to street children, beggars, and those wandering in urban areas. While these homes do not offer permanent residence, they ensure institutional care and support. Currently, nine Open Shelter Homes are operational in various districts in Haryana.

MUKHYAMANTRI BAL SEVA YOJANA

Launched on June 16, 2021, this scheme supports children below 18 years of age who lost both parents, legal guardians, or adoptive parents due to COVID-19. It also covers children whose parents or guardians died within six months of contracting the infection. Since the scheme's inception until March 2025, a total of ₹124.70 lakh was disbursed to 337 beneficiaries for their rehabilitation and welfare.

The Harihar Scheme provides educational, financial, and employment benefits to children who were abandoned or surrendered before the age of five, and who have completed 18 years of age while residing in state child care institutions. Up to April, 2025, six eligible children received financial benefits under the scheme, and 12 children have been appointed to Group C government positions on a compassionate basis.

SCHEMES FOR ADOLESCENT GIRLS

Implemented nationwide from April 1, 2018, this scheme benefits out-of-school girls aged 11–18 years. Since 2022–23, it also includes school-going girls aged 14–18 years in the district of Mewat.

The scheme offers several key services, including nutritional support- -iron and folic acid supplementation-- health check-ups and referral services, health education; formal education or vocational training for out-of-school girls; life skills education and home management training.
