The festival of democracy in India is also a riot of colour. Custom perhaps dictates that these women voters in the 2024 general elections from Dadal village in Rajasthan's Jalore district cover their heads when outdoors, but their uniform red veils add a dash of zest to the pure drama of the polls

BANDEEP SINGH

Portrait of a human trafficking victim in Varanasi, featured on the INDIA TODAY cover. Sold at 14 and forced into sexual slavery, her image cast a harsh light on one of India's deepest shames—hidden in plain sight across its towns and cities
