

SERGIO GOR

Ambassador of the United States of America to India

Under President Trump's leadership, the US-India relationship has the potential to reach historic heights and deliver results on a scale rarely seen before

Reciprocity means fair trade, mutual respect, and shared prosperity. It is the principle underlying the US-India trade deal

Even when President Trump was out of the White House, PM Modi remained a friend...they kept in touch. That's something the president really appreciates
