PM Modi Invites Investors to Boost Growth in Textiles, Tourism and Technology

Prime Minister Narendra Modi extended his congratulations to Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Dr. Mohan Yadav for the successful organization of the Global Investors Summit, aimed at achieving the vision of a "Developed Madhya Pradesh for a Developed India."

Addressing the summit, PM Modi stated that, for the first time in history, the entire world is looking toward India with optimism. He emphasized that India has proven its capabilities across various sectors, which has resulted in global trust and confidence in the country. He further added that this trust is also being experienced in Madhya Pradesh.

Madhya Pradesh is the fifth-largest state in India in terms of population and is a leader in agriculture and mining. Additionally, the state is blessed with the Narmada River. With the ongoing infrastructure development in India, Madhya Pradesh has reaped significant benefits, as a major part of the Delhi-Mumbai National Highway passes through the state. The region boasts a road network spanning five lakh kilometers, providing immense potential for logistics. With such capacities, Madhya Pradesh has the potential to become one of India's top five states.

PM Modi also congratulated Chief Minister Dr. Mohan Yadav for declaring 2025 as the "Year of Industries."

18 New Policies Launched to Boost Industrial Investment

During the event, PM Modi virtually launched 18 new policies aimed at promoting industrial investment in Madhya Pradesh. These include the Madhya Pradesh Industry Policy 2025, MSME Policy, Export Promotion Policy, Logistics Policy, Startup Policy, Animation-VR-Gaming-Extended Reality Policy, GCC Policy, Semiconductor Policy, Drone Promotion and Utilization Policy, Film Tourism Policy, Tourism Policy, Pumped Hydro Storage Policy, City Gas Distribution Policy, Aviation Policy, Renewable Energy Policy, Health Investment Promotion Policy, and Integrated Township Policy.

MP: India's Cotton Capital

Encouraging industrialists to invest in Madhya Pradesh, PM Modi highlighted that the state has over 300 industrial zones and immense investment opportunities. The state has a surplus energy capacity of 31,000 MW, with 30% coming from renewable sources. Recently, a floating solar power project was inaugurated in Omkareshwar. The energy boom in the state has significantly contributed to its industrial growth.

Additionally, the foundation stone for the 45,000 crore Ken-Betwa Link Project has been laid, which will enhance irrigation capacity across 10 lakh hectares of land. This will boost the textile industry and food processing sector in the state. PM Modi referred to Madhya Pradesh as the Cotton Capital of India, being the largest producer of textile materials and cotton supply in the country. The state is also known for its Mulberry Silk and Chanderi Sarees. Among the seven major textile parks being developed in India, one is located in Madhya Pradesh.

Madhya Pradesh also holds a strong position in India's tourism sector, with significant developments along the Narmada River, making it a unique and attractive destination.

Madhya Pradesh Making Strides in the Electric Vehicle Sector

PM Modi recalled that two decades ago, investors hesitated to invest in Madhya Pradesh. However, today, the state is making rapid progress in the electric vehicle sector. By January 2025, two lakh electric vehicles are expected to be registered in the state, reflecting its growing investment appeal in emerging sectors. The government is also promoting investments in lithium batteries and nuclear energy.

Additionally, 100% of Madhya Pradesh's railway network has been electrified, and the newly developed Rani Kamlapati Station has become a visual attraction. Following this model, 80 more railway stations in the state are being developed. The aviation sector is also expanding, with airports in Gwalior and Jabalpur undergoing major upgrades.
