

NANDITA SINHA
CEO, INSTAMART

Nandita Sinha is a veteran consumer-internet leader with over two decades of experience across Myntra, Flipkart, Britannia, and Hindustan Unilever. At Myntra, she led market-share gains and a turnaround that saw the fashion platform return to profitability, with profits rising sharply to ₹548 crore in FY25. Now at Instamart, she takes on India's fiercely competitive quick-commerce market, where her mandate spans growth, premiumisation, private labels, merchandising, and profitability across a 130-plus-city network and expanding.

NATASHA POONAWALA
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, SERUM INSTITUTE OF INDIA

Natasha Poonawalla leads Serum Institute of India's international business and global health partnerships as its Executive Director. Her role includes engagement with multilateral institutions, governments and international health organisations as Serum Institute expands across global markets and immunisation programmes. She has been involved in the company's relationships with organisations including the World Health Organization, UNICEF, Gavi, and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

PHOTO BY GETTY IMAGES

NEERJA BIRLA
FOUNDER & CHAIRPERSON, ADITYA BIRLA EDUCATION TRUST

Mental health and inclusive educations are critical and sensitive issues. To deal with them calls for high levels of empathy. Neerja Birla, Founder & Chairperson, Aditya Birla Education Trust (ABET), has demonstrated purpose and a spirit of service to build institutions with the objective of making these issues more accessible. Mpower, which champions mental health service, has already served over eight million people, while its awareness and advocacy efforts have reached over 180 million people across India.