

ILLUSTRATIONS BY RAJ VERMA

- This was much more than the $26 billion raised through a similar window back in 2013
- The huge FCNR (B) flows have led to a record liquidity surplus of over ₹11 lakh crore
- Aided by the huge FCNR (B) inflows, India's forex reserves touched a record $785.7 billion in the week ended September 4, 2026
- That has prompted the RBI to take various measures like VRRR (variable rate reverse repo) auctions to mop up excess liquidity. Experts say the RBI may consider an interim hike in the cash reserve ratio
- Separately, there were inflows of $5.26 billion via overseas foreign currency borrowings (OFCB) and $3.89 billion via external commercial borrowings (ECB) as of August 31. The special window for OFCB and ECB will close on December 31, 2026