FMCG

FEELING THE CRUNCH

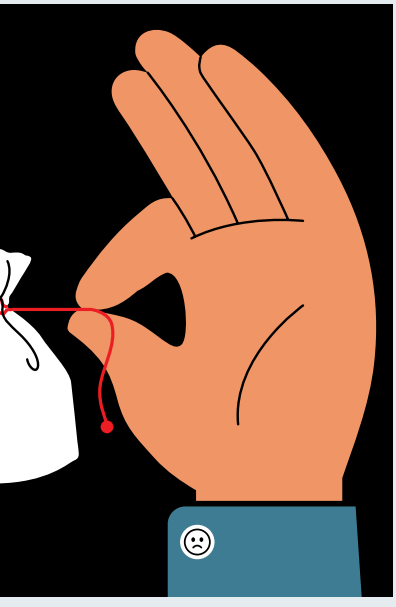

In tough times, instead of cutting down buying, FMCG consumers opt for cheaper/ unbranded alternatives. So value growth has come down in the last year despite stable volume growth

Value growth (%)
Price growth (%)
Volume growth (%)

MAT (Moving Annual Total) sales refer to total sales for a product over the previous 12 months

Source: NielsenIQ Offline Retail Measurement; includes product categories across food, home and personal care

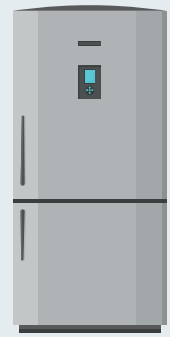

CONSUMER DURABLES AND TECHNOLOGY

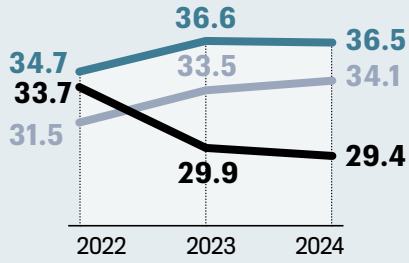

IN THE COLD FREEZE

REFRIGERATORS

Refrigerator sales have seen a drop in the entry-level segment. Growth in the mass and premium segments only indicates the K-shaped recovery in the economy

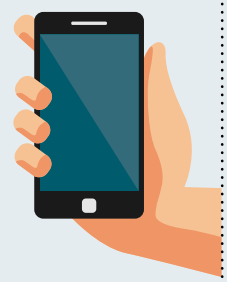

Share in category sales (%)

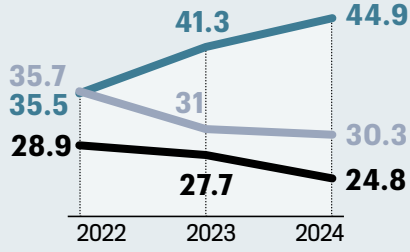

Entry (less than ₹15,000)
Mass (₹15,000 to ₹20,000)
Premium (₹20,000 plus)

SMARTPHONES

Inflationary pressures are the most pronounced in the entry-level and mass market segments, as sales see a decline as opposed to the premium segment

Share in category sales (%)

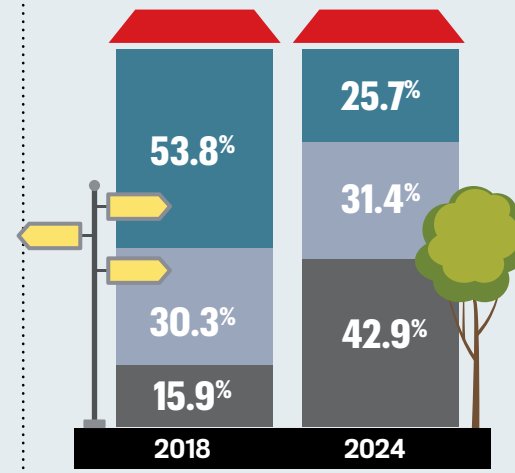

Entry (less than ₹10,000)
Mass (₹10,000-₹15,000)
Premium (₹15,000-plus)

Source: NielsenIQ powered by GfK Intelligence for offline retail

REAL ESTATE

THE GREAT HOUSING DIVIDE

Growth in the premium segment priced above Rs 1 crore may have seen a notable rise since 2018, but sales of affordable housing have declined, highlighting the growing strain on the lower end of the market

Ticket size
Affordable (<₹50 lakh)
Mid-segment (₹50 lakh-₹1 crore)
Premium (>₹1 crore)

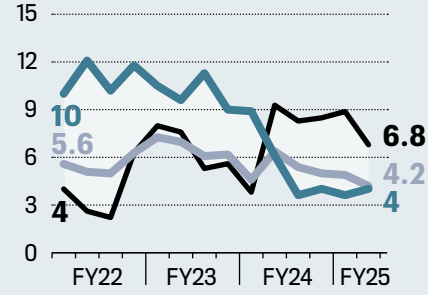

Source: Knight Frank

Note: Sales across top 8 cities in India, 2024 data is until September*

WAGES & INFLATION

DOUBLE WHAMMY

Corporate wage growth has been plummeting even as prices, particularly of food, have been going upward

Urban corporate wage growth (%)
Overall inflation
Food inflation

Source: India Ratings and Research