financial power of, 120;
financial reforms in, 48, 103, 105, 123;
financial statecraft of, 111–125;
financial system in, transitional, 52–53;
foreign aid of, 117, 120;
foreign bond ownership in, 54;
foreign exchange reserves of, 56–57, 97, 154, 179, 219n62;
foreign investment and, 39, 44–45, 56;
foreign policy of, 23, 111–112, 115–116, 122;
Fortune Global 500 companies in, 40;
forum shopping by, 120;
frustration of, with the US, 117;
funding for CRA, 95;
future capabilities of, 40;
during global financial crisis, 115;
global current account surplus and, 56, 57;
global influence of, 2, 39, 41, 65, 112–113, 117–122, 218n59;
global investment and, 38;
Great Power leadership of, 123;
group making by, 118;
growth of, 1, 2, 63, 114, 119–120, 171–172;
in the G20, 118;
IMF and, 20, 77, 116–117, 120, 168;
industrial ecosystem of, 39;
informal institutions in, 175;
innovative capacity of, 39–40;
institutional quality of, 174–175;
intellectual property in, 39;
international assets of, 55;
international infrastructure initiatives of, 97–98;
international payments system in, 62–63;
investing in dollar-denominated assets, 87;
invited to join G7/G8 summit, 217–18n44;
as joiner, 8;
as leader in collective financial statecraft, 38–39;
leadership in, new approaches of, 19, 20;
middle-income trap of, 118;
military capabilities of, 37, 42;
monetary nationalism of, 122;
motivations of, for working with BRICS, 113, 116–125;
move to new power relations with the US, 19;
moving up the value chain, 38;
multilateralism and, 113, 118, 120;
nationalism of, 220n89;
NDB and, 94;
new normal in, 34–35;
offshore assets of, 60;
oil futures markets in, 136;
outbound foreign direct investment by, 60;
outside options of, 20, 70, 124;