United Nations, 6;
Conference on Trade and Development, 14;
Economic Commission on Latin America and the Caribbean, 148;
General Assembly, 210n109;
Security Council, 6, 90, 112, 217n43, 232n
United Progressive Alliance (India), 140
United States: AIIB's effect on, 99;
capital markets in, 50;
challenges to, 4;
China's rise and, 108;
counter-hegemonic bloc against, 6;
credibility of, 91;
decline of, 25;
domestic financial development in, 51;
dominance of, 24–25, 43–44, 66, 100–102;
facilitating joiners in financial system, 9–10;
financial power of, declining, 57;
financial system of, access to, 44;
foreign bond holdings in, 54;
foreign policy of, 43, 144;
G7 and, 1;
global corporations and, 40;
global current account surplus and, 56; global defense spending shifting away from, 42;
government-sponsored enterprises, 137, 169;
hard balancing against, 5;
liberal hegemony of, 9;
monetary policy of BRICS' concerns about, 100–102;
multilateral development banks and, 98;
outside options for, 18–19;
as percentage of G7 economies, 32;
as portion of world economy, 29–31;
power of, veiled, 80;
preventing allies from acting as equal partners, 11;
protecting Russia from IMF policies, 129–130;
pursuing independent interests, 11–12, 33;
share in world economy declining, 43–44;
soft power of, 43;
structural power of, 19, 22, 27, 66;
trade deficits of, 87;
in unipolar system, 3, 25;
underrepresented in global governance institutions, 73, 74;
veto power of, in World Bank and IMF, 75;
as world's financial hegemon, 7
universalism, 148, 156
UNSC. See United Nations: Security Council
UPA. See United Progressive Alliance
Urpelainen, Johannes, 185n19, 186n33
Ursúa, José, 195n40
U.S. National Intelligence Council, 194n27