ART ▼

LINES OF CONTROL

An ongoing exhibition of preparatory sketches by the late artist A.A. Raiba at Delhi's Thapar Gallery shows his mastery over form

As a former scientist-in-training, I have always had a thing for graph-paper notebooks; I adore their neatness, their elegance. Moreover, there is a well-documented history of graphs/grids being important preparatory tools for artists and writers. Diego Rivera famously plotted his gigantic murals on graph beforehand, while Thomas Pynchon wrote the first draft of his masterpiece Gravity's Rainbow on graph paper. In an ongoing exhibition at Delhi's Thapar Gallery, one can observe the importance of

EARLY IMPRESSIONS Artworks by A.A. Rabba on display at Thapar Gallery, Delhi

THE LISTICLE

WHAT'S HOT AND HAPPENING IN THE WORLD OF ART THIS MONTH

▼ SHAILJA ART GALLERY | Gurugram | Till Jun. 13

THE CONTEMPORARY LORE

The Contemporary Lore: Sojourn of Styles and Generations Unfurled, curated by Kiran K. Mohan, brings together 23 artists across generations, including Asit Patnaik, Ashok Bhowmick (painting in pic), Bharti Prajapati, in a deliberately non-hierarchical exhibition spanning painting, sculpture and mixed media.

▲ TAO ART GALLERY | Mumbai | On view till May 28

He Who Permeates

The exhibition places artists Jayesh Sachdev (artwork in pic) and N.F.N. Kalyan in dialogue through paintings, sculpture and immersive installations. Curated by Mihir Thakkar, it examines mythology, pop culture and identity in today's image-saturated world, transforming familiar symbols into layered reflections on perception, meaning and contemporary visual culture.