

INTERVIEW
CEO

Our relationship has grown stronger year after year, politically, economically, and stands grounded in mutual respect. This flagship in Mumbai is our way of expressing this optimism.

Excerpts from a conversation with Sathyajit R, CEO International Brands, Aditya Birla Fashion Retail Limited (ABFRL)

Q: In what ways does Galeries Lafayette Mumbai stand at an advantage?
There is a definitive air of positivity around the luxury retail space in India. What is it like to be leading the multi ticket-boom? There are only silver clouds everywhere. The recently announced Free Trade Agreements will play out in due time but they bring in much-awaited closer collaborations between India and Western companies. Especially the European Union. This promises larger opportunities, and hence more innovation. There are exciting times ahead for luxury retail in India.

Q: With the changing geopolitical climate, are there any specific upswings in the fashion economy expected?
I believe the strengthening of the Indo-French rela-
