PLAY ▼

Politically Charged

THE STAGE IS SET Clockwise from right, Bruce Guthrie, Ira Dubey and Neil Bhoopalam

Theatre director Bruce Guthrie brings Death and the Maiden, Ariel Dorfman's chilling exploration of justice and trauma, to life in a timely new production

It was during his days at drama school that Bruce Guthrie, now head – theatre & films, National Centre for the Performing Arts (NCPA), Mumbai, came across Chilean playwright Ariel Dorfman's internationally acclaimed play Death and the Maiden. "What struck me then, and still does now, is its psychological precision," he says.

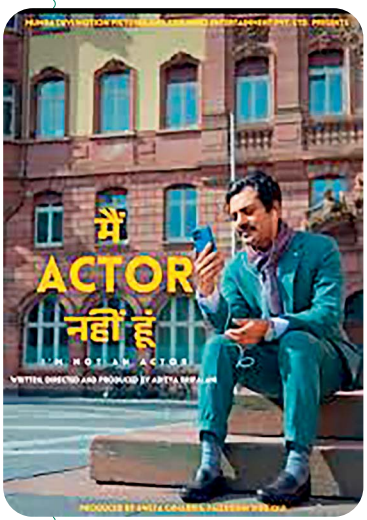

Now, Guthrie is all set to direct the play and is currently in the midst of rehearsals with actors Neil Bhoopalam, Ira Dubey and Vivek Gomber. Set in a country emerging from dictatorship, Death and the Maiden follows Paulina Salas, a former political prisoner who becomes convinced that a chance visitor

THE LISTICLE

Upcoming Indian releases, theatrical and OTT, to watch out for

▼ May 8 | Theatres

MAIN ACTOR NAHIN HOON

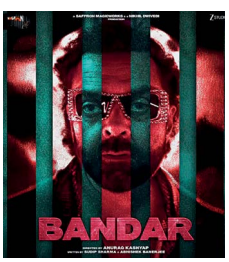

Independent filmmaker Aditya Kripalani directs the kind of quaint, offbeat, life-affirming drama currently missing Indian screens. A depressed banker (Nawazuddin Siddiqui) in Frankfurt starts to heal through online acting lessons from a Mumbai-based struggling actor (Chitrangada Satarupa).

DRISHYAM 3, ◀ May 21 | Theatres

This Mohanlal-starrer thriller franchise has been a golden goose for at least six film industries, including the Sri Lankan and Chinese. It has a third part now. Georgekutty (Mohanlal) appears to be still getting away with murder.

◀ May 22 | Theatres

BANDAR

From director Anurag Kashyap and writer Sudip Sharma (Paatal Lok, Kohrra) comes a dirty and detailed look into the conditions of Indian prisons via the case of an actor (Bobby Deol) incarcerated over rape charges.