THE INCUMBENT

Himanta Biswa Sarma, 57
BJP, Chief Minister, Assam

KEY STRATEGIES

- Sarma as the central face, turning the election into a referendum on his governance model. Projection of infrastructure build-out, industrial investments, and faster growth aims to create a "feel-good" mood
- Targeted welfare outreach—covering 75-85% of Assam's population—is paired with promises of more payouts and more government jobs in next term
- Emphasis on illegal immigration consolidates a vote bank across caste, tribe, class lines; UCC and actions against love/ land jihad presented as tools to protect ethnic identities
- Redrawing constituencies has compressed Muslim influence; multi-cornered contests are engineered to split Opposition votes
- By fixing defections and projecting Congress as weak, Sarma has created distrust within the Opposition
