

TRUE TO FORM

Connoisseurs of style will tell you good design doesn't age, it gathers better stories

BUREAU REPORT

At Milan Design Week, Poltrona Frau proved that true beauty doesn't wrinkle, it just gains soul. Within the frescoes of Palazzo Gallarati Scotti, the True Over Time collection debuted in a space reimagined by Studio Brigolin Baschera. The star of the show? The dima, a template used to cut upholstery for Poltrona Frau furnishings. From office setups that actually make you want to work to a teak-decked courtyard featuring Studio Paolo Ferrari's yacht-ready sofas, the message was clear, trend-chasing is out; timelessness is in. After all, why settle for a season when you can have a legacy?
