A Story of Home, Wonder, and Quiet Blooming

Sarita Handa – Spring Fables: Spring Summer 2026 Collection

Spring Fables is a gentle reawakening—a collection narrated in motifs and textures, inviting you to step into a home that is both a sanctuary and a storybook. Conceived as a tapestry of memory and imagination, every piece returns to that elusive sense of awe and belonging in the spaces we call our own.

Here, the enchantment of childhood tales unfurls anew. Vines meander across cotton percale and linen, their stitched paths echoing woodland stories and the intricate poetry of the wild garden. Florals emerge, not in excess but in thoughtful clusters, suggesting the promise of meadows glimpsed at dawn or the rich, guarded secrets of a hedged courtyard. Feathers, petals, and quietly embroidered creatures nestle amidst contemporary composition, weaving comfort and magic into the fabric of daily life.

Delicate layering defines this season: translucent panels, quilted surfaces, and nuanced embroidery evoke sun-dappled chapters and the tactile nostalgia of a favourite book. The palette, soft yet certain, is rooted in nature. Shades of moss, blush, spring leaf, sky-washed blue and creamy white are balanced with the refined weight of stone and polished wood.

Furniture, in this setting, becomes an extension of the narrative—softly contoured forms, tactile upholstery, and quietly detailed woodwork that ground the space while allowing the textiles to lead. Thoughtfully placed, each piece offers both comfort and pause, completing the story without overwhelming its magic.
