Seating the Future

Can a single chair bridge the gap between a visionary sketch and industrial mastery? To celebrate a decade of craftsmanship, Ahmedabad-based Tectona Grandis Furniture (TGF) launches The Chair Affair, a pioneering platform uniting Indian designers with expert workshops. Founded by Dhruvkant and Jalpa Amin, TGF's inaugural edition features five emerging studios, including VMeet Design Studio and Terra Firma, transforming conceptual ideas into sculptural, production-ready seating. From reclaimed teak to wheelbarrow-inspired mechanics, the collection champions technical precision and equitable royalty-based collaborations. It's a bold evolution for TGF, turning a furniture house into a vital incubator for India's growing design ecosystem.

Geometry in Bloom

From the shadow of the Alhambra to the heart of the Indian home, Good Earth's latest collection, Al-Andalus, is a masterclass in the art of the global table. Designed by Spanish native Rocío Pérez Hernández, the artisanal stoneware is a poetic dialogue between architecture and nature. Hand-drawn motifs of pomegranates, lemons and jasmine are framed by Nasrid-inspired geometric borders and 24-carat gold accents, echoing the luminous tiles of the Alhambra. Rooted in the generous spirit of sobremesa (Spanish tradition of lingering at the table after a meal to relax, talk and enjoy the company of others), the range features platters and linens tailored for relaxed, tapas-style entertaining. It's a sophisticated tribute to Mediterranean heritage.
