UPFRONT

GLASSHOUSE: FREQUENT FLIER RAHUL PG 8

GRAPHIC: LIVING LONGER BUT UNHEALTHIER PG 10

IANS

ANI

BRUTAL INTENT Clockwise from left, gunmen open fire at Tiger Shroff's car in Mumbai's Juhu, Oct. 18; a forensic team at the spot; Maharashtra Dy CM Eknath Shinde at Shroff's home, Oct. 19

▶ TIGER SHROFF ATTACK

STRIKING THE STARS

An alleged contract killing attempt targeting actor Tiger Shroff brings back the spectre of gangland intimidation in Bollywood and a renewed criminal push into Mumbai

By DHAVAL S. KULKARNI and ANILESH S. MAHAJAN

A BURST OF GUNFIRE IN SUBURBAN MUMBAI HAS AWAKENED AN OLD GHOST: is the underworld stirring back to life? Actor Tiger Shroff, 36, was targeted in an alleged contract killing attempt in Juhu on the evening of October 18, suspected to have been carried out by the Lawrence Bishnoi gang. His driver and a bystander were injured, but Shroff escaped with minor gunpowder burns and abrasions.

Ten people, including two women, have been arrested in inter-state police operations spanning Mumbai, Rajasthan, Haryana and Delhi. On October 19, the Rajasthan Police arrested the suspected shooters, Rehan Rahisuddin alias Sukka and Phool Singh, both 18 and from the same village in Sonipat, Haryana, along with their handler, Hrithik Mahto, 22, alias Roshan Fighter, from Bihar, at Kota railway station. Later, the Delhi Police nabbed five people—Kunal (21), Sumit (19) and Ankit Khattar (18), all from Sonipat, and Radha (23) and Babita (23), both from Uttar Pradesh. On October 21, two others—Sameer and Jatin—were arrested in Haryana by the Mumbai Police in association with the local police.