

Why should your wardrobe have all the festive fun? This is why creating a decor and the home line (printed crockery sets, luxury wallpapers and premium upholstery), felt like a very natural extension. My love for florals is now reaching a wider audience and I feel so happy to see people experiencing my world and making it their own. These two stunning, character-rich looks prove festive hosting is an art form and rigid perfection is highly overrated.