

▲ WHY CONSENT MATTERS AT HOME, WORK AND EVERYWHERE ELSE

RANJANA KUMARI
Director, Centre for Social Research, Women Power Connect

“Fear is the reason women give their consent immediately. Dependency is another... That ecosystem needs to be altered....”

Prof. MADHAVI MENON
Director, Centre for Studies in Gender and Sexuality, Ashoka University

“I should be able to say ‘I don’t know’ or ‘I changed my mind’, and the world won’t stop turning”

NIYATI SHARMA
Sexuality educator, Founder-Executive Director, Pratisandhi Foundation

“There is no one lesson when it comes to consent. There are lots of nuances and it is very contextual. It has to be an ongoing conversation”

SMITA BHARTI
Playwright, theatre director and Executive Director, Sakshi

“‘No’ is just information about a person’s boundaries... Change only begins when we all respect the receiving of a ‘no’”
