

AI generated Image/ SALONI VAID

A small intimate bar ensures sensible personalisation and elevated conversation (Left); Gathering of a bartender's favourite tools at The Hidden Club at Olive Mehrauli, Delhi (Below)

EXPERIENCE FIRST

Arijit Bose, co-founder of Bengaluru's Una Hacienda and Goa's Bar Outrigger, operates two intimate 4-8 seater sections called The Bunker Room and Bar O within their larger spaces. "These places don't make money, that wasn't the plan anyway. We had backbars, mostly for preps and experimentation, so we opened them to give people an experience that's different from the front room", he shares. The Hidden Club, at Olive Mehrauli is a new addition to Delhi's offering, with just three seats. "It's a space where we can genuinely take care of our guests", mixologist Chong Sherpa emphasises the personalised attention they offer.

The Leela Palace Bengaluru had already upped the game with their exclusive bar, ZLB23, and now The Theatre is furthering the experience. "It was conceived as a stage, where every serve is a performance, and from storytelling to the service, each touchpoint can be precisely choreographed", explains Suchismita Roy Chowdhury, Assistant F&B Manager at ZLB23.