

The Chambers restuarant at The Taj Mahal, New Delhi (Left); Hammam at the Lodhi Spa (Below)

for the after-dinner hour, the Lodhi Athletic Club for tennis, squash and pickleball, a 50-metre pool and well-equipped gym, and a spa built around Delhi's only hammam— eight private treatment rooms, steam, and hot-and-cold plunge alongside Ayurvedic and contemporary rituals.

Membership costs Upwards of ₹4 lakh per year

THE DRAWING ROOM
The St. Regis, Mumbai

India's first St. Regis carries the Astor family's century-old tradition of ceremony into Mumbai's Lower Parel skyline, and its members' privileges are built around ritual as much as amenity. The Drawing Room hosts Champagne Sabering every Wednesday and Friday at sundown—a St. Regis signature dating back to the brand's New York origins—while the Caroline Astor Suite and its in-room butler service remain the address's most requested stay. Members get priority access to the Racquet Club, the 24-hour Athletic Club, and the Iridium Spa—treatment rooms, sauna and steam built into the hotel's wellness floor—alongside a standing Wednesday-and-Friday art tour through the hotel's collection of over a hundred works. If The Claridges is