AS JODHPUR RIFF TURNS 20, RAJASTHAN'S FOLK TRADITIONS TAKE CENTRESTAGE ALONGSIDE A STELLAR LINEUP OF INTERNATIONAL MUSICIANS

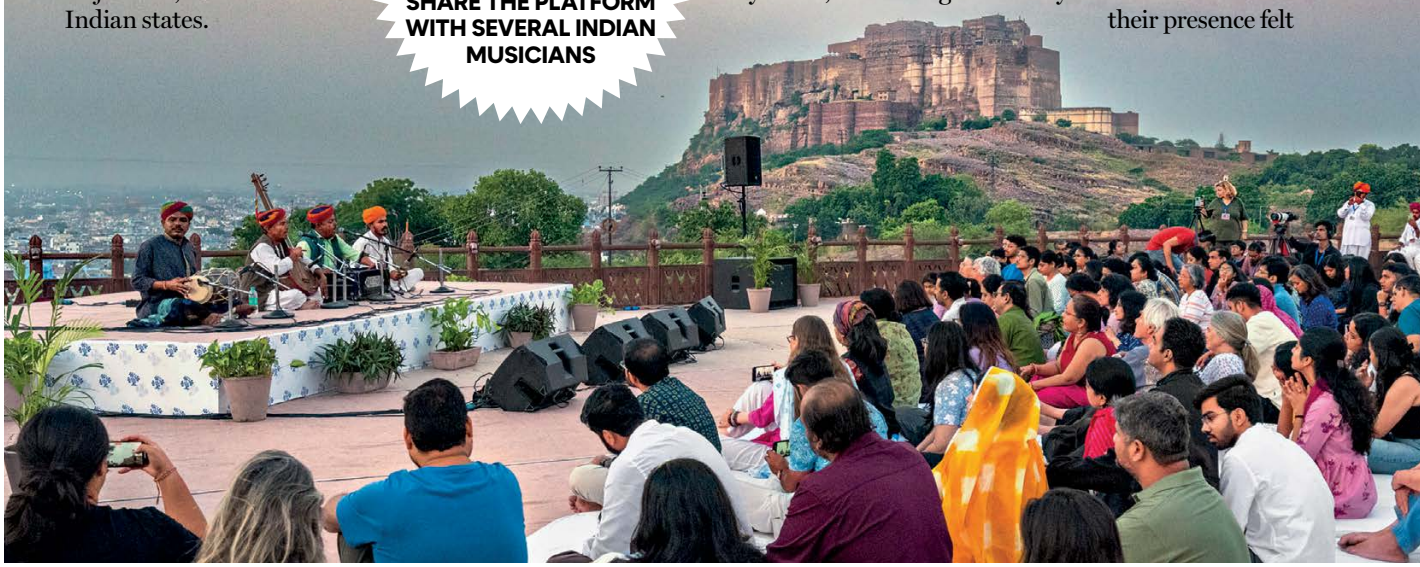

Marking two decades of its existence, Jodhpur RIFF's 20th edition will be held at Mehrangarh Fort, timed as ever to Sharad Purnima, the year's brightest full moon. Artists from as far afield as Colombia, Chile, Poland, Scotland and Estonia, among other international shores, will share the platform with folk musicians from Rajasthan, as well as other Indian states.

Divya Bhatia, festival director and producer, Jodhpur RIFF, says, "Rajasthani folk music—while still prevalent in villages in the state 20 years ago—was lesser known outside Rajasthan, and relatively unknown across the world which knew Hindustani and Carnatic music, and Bollywood. Jodhpur RIFF gave Rajasthani folk artists a truly national and international platform. It gave them a home and a springboard."

ARTISTS FROM COLOMBIA, CHILE, POLAND, SCOTLAND AND ESTONIA, AMONG OTHER NATIONS, WILL SHARE THE PLATFORM WITH SEVERAL INDIAN MUSICIANS

Making his India debut is DOBBY, the ARIA Award-winning Filipino-Murrawarri rapper, drummer and composer. Latin American folk artist Camila y Silvio, Afro-Indigenous singer-songwriter Martha Redbone from the US and her British partner Aaron Whitby, French opera singer Camille Bordet are some of the other international artists performing at Jodhpur RIFF.

Among the Indian artists, Padma Shri vocalist Ashwini Bhide-Deshpande, pianist-composer Merlin D'Souza, Padma Shri awardee Taga Ram and Meghwal sisters Dariya and Kewal will make their presence felt
