

The Rex Deli

British comfort, Mayfair polish, and a former stable without the fuss.

Mayfair can turn vain very quickly, and looking at how a majority of its restaurants are priced, you see that happen more often than not. The Rex Deli, thankfully, doesn't seem interested in any of that—instead, it displays its humble roots with pride. Once a stable on Bruton Place, the Deli now offers a gastronomical journey beginning with coffee, cakes and sandwiches for brunch, and ending with some of the finest British bistro food for dinner (think irresistible fare like triple-cooked chips, Swedish meatballs with mash and gravy, chicken and beef spring rolls). And everything's just so fresh: most ingredients come from the regenerative Rowler Farm in Northamptonshire.

Where 38 Bruton Place, W1J 6NX
Contact https://therexdeli.com
Meal for Two £80 (₹10,000)
Must try Larry's Club

