

Wine and pinxtos at COR (Top); Guests enjoying outside COR (Above)

COR

COR makes plant-based dining feel almost incidental, which may just explain its charm. Hattab and partner Bernd Vogel combine Catalan inspired tapas and pintxos with Spanish and French biodynamic wines. Stuffed peppers and pa amb tomàquet are designed for grazing, not ceremony. It works with organic produce and small, ethical producers, while the menu shifts with the seasons. Only limited quantities of its plant-based tapas and pintxos are prepared each day. It is pleasantly impermanent: no great vegan manifesto, simply a good bottle, two or three small plates and an evening frozen in time.
