

Apple Watch Ultra 3

The Apple Watch Ultra 3 remains the gold standard for iPhone users looking for a premium smartwatch. Crafted from lightweight titanium, it combines elegant design with exceptional durability. Its large, bright 1.98-inch Retina display is easy to read in any lighting condition, while the customisable Action Button provides quick access to workouts, navigation and shortcuts.

Health and fitness are where the Ultra 3 truly shines. It offers ECG, heart rate monitoring, sleep tracking, temperature sensing and detailed workout analytics, all integrated into Apple's intuitive Health ecosystem. The watch also delivers smooth performance, accurate GPS tracking and seamless access to calls, messages, Apple Pay and other Apple services.

For anyone invested in the Apple ecosystem, the Ultra 3 offers one of the most polished smartwatch experiences available, balancing luxury, performance and everyday practicality.

Google Pixel Watch 3

The Google Pixel Watch 3 proves that luxury can be understated. Its minimalist circular design, premium build quality and smooth Wear OS experience makes it one of the most elegant smartwatches on the market.

Powered by Google's software and Fitbit's health expertise, it offers comprehensive fitness tracking, heart rate monitoring, sleep analysis and personalised wellness insights. AI-powered features, intelligent notifications and seamless integration with Google Maps, Wallet and Gemini make everyday interactions smarter and more convenient.

While it is less rugged than the Ultra models, the Pixel Watch 3 excels through thoughtful design, intelligent software and one of the cleanest smartwatch experiences available for Android users.
