

Left to Right: Diwan-e-Khaas, Fatehpur Sikri; Trident, Udaipur—local vernacular traditions and regional craft techniques impart a distinct identity to architectural elements; Regional material choices define the design of local jaalis across India