SECURITY OR SUSTAINABILITY: ANDAMAN'S BIG QUESTION

CHANDRADEEP KUMAR

DEBI GOENKA
Executive Trustee, Conservation Action Trust

"What we are objecting to is a transshipment port coming up in an area notified as a sanctuary... if the project comes through, the Shompen tribe would be extinct in some years"

DR MANISH CHANDI
PhD, Andaman & Nicobar Islands

"I understand the aspiration for using Great Nicobar as a strategic outpost is well-founded, but the way the particular proposal has gone about is flawed"

CAPTAIN SARABJEET S. PARMAR (RETD)
Distinguished Fellow, Council for Strategic and Defence

"We should not look at the project from a strategic advantage vs environment vs human element vs commercial advantage. We should look at it as a package deal, whether it is the best arrangement"

COEXISTENCE OR CONFLICT? THE STRAY DOG DILEMMA

(2) "There should be some onus on the feeder to get the dog sterilised and vaccinated through municipal agencies. Feeders are very important stakeholders"

ABODH ARAS, CEO, The Welfare of Stray Dogs

(3) "In 2024, 37 lakh dog bite cases were reported, as per data in Parliament. We have to strike a balance and have a policy of coexistence"

VIVEK SHARMA
Advocate

(1) "It is unfortunate when anyone is bitten... The solution is not to alienate or make a villain or send the dog to ghettos. The solution is to neuter them, worked out after multi-stakeholder consultations"

GAURI MAULEKHI, Animal welfare activist

Photograph by BANDEEP SINGH